Water, water everywhere!

Huge numbers of people throughout the world live in places where there is water stress. The richer they are, the more they ignore it. The poorer they are, the more they suffer from it. The whole of the USA, North Africa, the Middle East, China, Australia and most of South Asia are areas of water stress. People in these regions are using more water than falls from the sky.

We use water in our homes and we feel easy about that, living in Yorkshire where it rains. But we also use water products from places of water stress. The new techniques for oil and gas extraction, in fact most processes that provide us with fuel for our cars and home heating, not only use a lot of drinking water but also pollute drinking water for poorer people overseas.

A lot of the up market fruit, flowers and vegetables in the shops deprive poorer people of drinking water. We are pretty good at being grateful for obvious stuff. Water is different. It is a hidden benefit in so many ways. Perhaps the big price rises we expect for anything flown in to the country and for fuel generally will help us to be more grateful for water as well as for much else that we shall miss or only will only be able to afford as luxuries.

There is always a bright side!

COME AND MAKE BREAD TOGETHER – AND EAT IT WITH JAM

Celebrate the Bread of Life! We will make bread in pairs while thinking, discussing, praying and singing about the ingredients and what we are doing. We will then bake, eat and share our bread. This communal act will, we hope, be satisfying both spiritually and gastronomically.

If you wish to participate, please sign up on the church notice-board by the steps in Wesleys Cafe. Young people 11+ will be welcome. You will need: a mixing bowl [not plastic] for 500g [1lb] of flour, loaf tin for 500g [1lb], bread knife, pastry board, apron, & a little money to cover the cost of the ingredients, which the church will supply. The Church oven holds 36 tins, so you'll need to sign up quickly! We intend take the list down on Sunday evening, 3 July.

When: Sunday 10 July 2011, the feast will be the evening worship

Time: We start @ 4pm & end about 7pm Contact: John Anderson 01274 590525
